

Democratic Methodism in America: A Topical Survey of the Methodist Protestant Church (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Democratic Methodism in America: A Topical Survey of the Methodist Protestant Church The Methodist Protestant Church, established in 1830, is a representative democracy, and its organization was a protest against the religious monarchy developed under the leadership of the early bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church and against the autocratic manner in which that monarchy functioned in the epoch which immediately followed the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The purpose of this topical survey is to identify, to every questioner, the various links in the chain of circumstances which led to the organization of the Methodist Protestant Church and the fundamental principles which prompted and justified the movement. Every Christian denomination that presumes to maintain a separate existence in this new day should justify itself by a real and veritable contribution to world-wide Christianity. Every separate and sovereign Church is morally bound to voice the Gospel of Christ in all its fullness, to give a clear-toned and conscientious answer to the world-wide questions of the Kingdom of God, and to prove to the Christian common sense of the world that its own distinctive principles are broad enough and vital enough to furnish a worthy complement in the sum of Christian truth, and to constitute a living factor in the progress of the Church Universal. Can the Methodist Protestant Church justify itself in this broad and substantial way? About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
