

Invisible Doors

'Invisible Doors' is an initiation into the secrets and mysteries of communication with everything alive. On this unusual journey through time and space we are led on interwoven paths and different levels to a new form of communication of the heart and soul up to the secret language. Within the 143 stories we encounter situations that we might previously have thought impossible: people, animals, and even trees and other beings share their wisdom with us showing us our interconnectedness with them and everything that is. Michael J. Roads, Author of 'Through the Eyes of Love' about this book: 'Every so often a book jumps out at you. For me, Invisible Doors is such a book. I am delighted by the presentation of the content. The writing is both poignant and haunting. I enjoy exceptional writing. Despite the masses of available books today, such enchanting writing as this still manages to be comparatively rare. Invisible Doors is a collection of vignettes of poetic and evocative prose that simply delights me. Even though much of the content is familiar to me, it is presented in a manner that - for me - opens invisible doors to new insights and even greater clarity. What a treat! I thoroughly recommend this book.'
