

SNORT FLIES AGAIN

Christmas was successful with all the toys delivered around the world thanks to the special flying camel, Snort who stepped in when the reindeer were sick and couldn't fly. Now Santa realized that more elves were needed so he asked Snort to fly again to several of the world's countries in order for him to interview and employ more elves that were needed at the North Pole to start making toys and presents for next Christmas since the world's population of children was expanding so rapidly.
